

Fantasy Headlines
Sun Herald 31 Dec 2000
The Daily Page 23

FAREWELL. Sam O'Hare and Louise Murdoch share a kiss and throw party Murrumbidgee before the Sydney to Hobart.

Murdoch sons battle to take over as News Corp boss

FOLLOWING the shock resignation of Rupert Murdoch as boss of News Corp, the battle to take over the media giant is expected to be a close one. The two sons of the 70-year-old boss, Lachlan and James Murdoch, are expected to be the main contenders.

When Lachlan Murdoch was named as the likely successor to his father's position as CEO of News Corp, it was a surprise to many. Lachlan is a former investment banker and has only recently returned to Australia.

James Murdoch, who has been working in the United States, is expected to be a strong contender for the job. He has been working for News Corp in the United States for several years.

